

About the College

Located in the east of England, to the southern edge of Lincolnshire, the college is close to sandy beaches, nature reserves, conservation areas and the city of Lincoln. The college is in a small, English market town where students can feel at home and safe and explore the country easily from this location.

The college is based across four campuses which are close to one another. The main campus is where students will become part of the Sixth Form centre. The college was recently rated as 'Outstanding' in the recent Government inspection and they take the support of their students very seriously. They are regularly investing in their buildings and facilities to create inspiring learning spaces and to enhance the student experience.

The college welcomes around 100 international students each year from around 25 countries. With a population of over 7,000 students from a diverse range of backgrounds students are encouraged to aim high and the college team will drive and support the young people they work with.

Location Information

Lincolnshire is a county in the East of England and has a long coastline with the North Sea. It borders Norfolk, Cambridgeshire, Nottinghamshire and Leicestershire, giving it great access to major towns such as Nottingham, Norwich, Peterborough, Cambridge and London is just over 2 hours away by train.

The college is based in a small market town to the southeast of Lincolnshire. The town has an historic background and was once a very busy trading port. With beautiful buildings and market squares. You can also venture out to the vast estuary and see stunning coastline and wildlife.
